UBUNTU

"I am because we are."

Once upon a time, there was an anthropologist who proposed a game to African tribal children.
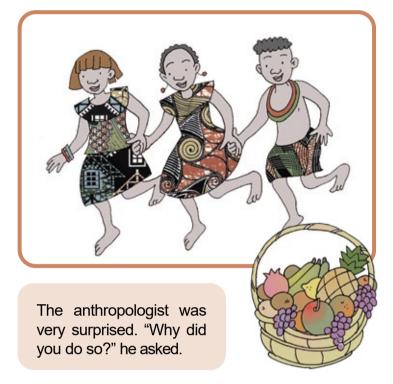

HELLO!

He placed a basket of delicious fruit near a tree, and then had them stand a few hundred feet away. Whoever reached the basket first would get all of them.

When he said,
"Ready, steady, go!"
do you know what these small children did?

They all held each other's hands and ran towards the tree together! Then they divided the fruits and enjoyed them equally.

The anthropologist was very surprised. "Why did you do so?" he asked.

They said "Ubuntu". Which to them, meant "How can one be happy when all the others are sad?"

Let us always carry this attitude within us, to spread happiness by sharing with others wherever we may go. "I am because we are".
